

Day 1 Closing Skit

CLOSING SKIT

As the skit opens, Wanda Whitewater enters the stage to find Gally Gator reclining in a beach chair wearing big dark sunglasses. Gally is soaking up the sun next to the pool. Consider including some additional props in order to clearly indicate this to the children.

Wanda: What are you doing Gally?

Gally: (Slowly looking in Wanda's direction, giving the impression that he is in a very relaxed state next to the pool.) Who me? I am just taking in some rays. Now that I passed my swimming test, I have been spending a lot more time in the water, which seems to make me a little tired. I find spending some time in this great chair under the warm sun really revives me.

Wanda: I hope you are wearing plenty of sunscreen.

Gally: Sunscreen? Is that to protect me in case the sun falls out of the sky while I am sitting here?

Wanda: Well, sort of?

Gally: (Gally quickly sits up, giving his full attention to Wanda.) You mean the sun could fall out of the sky? If that is the case, I'm going to need something stronger than a screen.

Wanda: No, Gally. The sun is not going to fall out of the sky. But the sun's rays, which keep you warm, can also give you a pretty bad sunburn if you're not wearing sunscreen.

Gally: (Relieved that the sun is not going to fall on him.) Do you have any sunscreen?

Wanda: Yes, I do. Would you like some?

Gally: (Gally quickly takes the sunscreen from Wanda and appears to be applying it generously to most of his exposed body.) Hey, Wanda, do you remember the story you were telling me earlier about Joseph?

Wanda: Yes, Gally, I remember our earlier conversation.

Gally: When his brothers took his coat and sold him into slavery, do you think they made sure he had plenty of sunscreen for his long trip through the desert to Egypt?

Wanda: No, Gally, I don't believe they had sunscreen when Joseph was alive.

Gally: I hope he did not get a bad sunburn.

Wanda: Well, I don't know if he got a bad sunburn; but considering how God's mighty hand was with him despite all the bad things that happened to him, I bet he was okay.

Gally: I bet you are right. God was so good to Joseph, even when he thought he was an underdog.

Wanda: God is amazing. He is kind of like that sunscreen you are putting all over your body.

Gally: (Gally pauses and stares inquisitively at the bottle of sunscreen.) How is that?

Wanda: Notice that after you have applied that sunscreen on your skin, it seems to disappear?

Gally: Yeh..... Doesn't last very long does it?

Wanda: Oh, Gally.... It lasts longer than you think. The sunscreen does not stop working even though you can no longer see it. It is still there on your skin protecting you from the sun. And that is kind of how we experience God. We can't see Him, but He is still giving us protection from the bad things in life.

Gally: Wow, I never thought of God like that. That is some great news. His mighty hand is with me even though I can't see Him.

Wanda: That's right, Gally. Now.... let's talk about those swimming trunks....
