OFFERING

We must fix our sights on places where the church is not yet, engaging in intercessory prayer, sacrificial giving, and physically going to and mobilizing others to reach those who have yet to hear the gospel.

OFFERING

What started in a garage as a four-person church became a community of more than 500 members in two short years.

Today the congregation in Candeias, Brazil, continues to grow, offer several classes for the community, and provide housing for children and youth when they have no safe alternatives.

OFFERING

In 2006, four missionary families moved to Singapore to embark on a great adventure for God. The families have been working alongside the people of Singapore since, teaching English, worshipping together, and growing in numbers those who follow the Christian faith. Thanks to the dedication of missionaries like these, the Nazarene church is officially recognized in Singapore.

OFFERING

As Jonathan and Lissett Petrus moved from the Netherlands to Curaçao — an island with no Nazarene presence — they felt God leading them to Christian ministry. Today, thanks to a partnership with churches from the United States, the denomination's work has been officially recognized in the island nation.
